Professional profile

WHAT DO I DO?

I am a skilled full stack developer with a wealth of diverse life and technical experience that I bring to every project.

I follow form as well as function. I know that the aesthetics of effective design combined with application speed, security and reliability combine to create a great user experience.

I work quickly and effectively in getting things built and working across the stack. I am an excellent communicator who thrives in bright and enthusiastic teams and I am also a self starter when working solo.
